1. Demonstration at Headquarters

On 27 April, 1500 demonstrators exercised their first amendment rights in an organized demonstration for peace and justice in Central America and Southern Africa, outside the Headquarters compound. Seventy percent of Agency personnel reported to work on 27 April despite the attempts made by the demonstrators to shut down the Agency. The Headquarters compound was internally controlled by [] Security Protective Officers, with additional support provided by Fairfax County Police, U.S. Park Police, and GSA Federal Protective Service (FPS). The Metropolitan Police Department provided an excellent assessment of what to expect from the demonstration. There were 554 demonstrators arrested, 355 arrests by Fairfax County Police, 180 arrests by the U.S. Park Police, and 19 arrests by the FPS. On 28 April, Dick Gregory and Hosea Williams conducted a small demonstration outside the Headquarters compound and they too were arrested. Congratulations are extended to all individuals who helped with the professional handling of these demonstrations. []
